V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1 - 9	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1 - 9	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1 - 9	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

1. The present invention pertains to a process for re-working a through hole of a component in which a material-removing agent flows through the through hole and in which a surface arranged about the through hole of the component is protected against the action of the material-removing agent.
2. US-A-5865977 shows a process with the features of the preamble of independent claim 1.
3. The problem addressed by the invention consists in improving such a process, in particular with respect to protecting the surface arranged about the through hole of the workpiece.

This problem is solved by the combination of features in independent claim 1.
4. The present invention is novel, since no prior publication contains all the features of independent claim 1 in combination.
5. The prior art documents do not disclose in a known process the essential feature that the material-removing agent is diluted after passing out of the through hole.

A person skilled in the art would discern no reason to provide this feature in a known device or process or to combine all the features of independent claim 1.

6. Claims 2-9 are dependent on claim 1 and therefore likewise meet the PCT requirements for novelty and independent step.
